AUSTRALIAN INTERNSHIP IN EQUINE MEDICINE AND SURGERY

Applications are presently being accepted for veterinarians interested in a twelve month internship in equine medicine, surgery and imaging at the Randwick Equine Centre. Four positions are available, two commencing 1st January 2011, one on 1st February 2011 and one commencing 1st August 2011.

The Randwick Equine Centre is a large specialist equine clinic operating out of a modern well equipped hospital facility located near Randwick Racecourse. The practice includes registered equine specialists in the fields of surgery, medicine and anaesthesia. The hospital caseload encompasses a combination of referral and primary accessions.

The successful applicants will receive experience in the fields of surgery, anaesthesia, medicine, ophthalmology and imaging (radiology, ultrasonography and nuclear medicine). The applicants will be involved in the diagnosis and treatment of hospital cases as well as field, routine racetrack and rostered supervised after hour's work. The program also includes time allocated gaining experience in stud medicine, yearling radiography and reproduction work during the breeding season.. Applicants must be enthusiastic, motivated and be keen to make the most of a twelve month position in a busy high profile equine practice. The practice boasts a strong team atmosphere of young and old with a well established mentoring program. Randwick Equine Centre enjoys a privileged location juxtaposed Australia's' main Thoroughbred sales complex, five minutes from the major Thoroughbred racetrack and equestrian centre in Sydney and only ten minutes from the harbour and a raft of beaches in one of the best cities in the world. A second clinic based in Sydney's west services the other Sydney Thoroughbred racetracks and Standardbred industry.

Interested applicants should contact the practice with the details below for further details on the program and are encouraged to visit the practice.

Applications should include a letter of intent, curriculum vitae and two letters of reference or further to Dr Chris O'Sullivan, PO Box 195 Randwick NSW 2031.
